This Weekend Is Moving Time For Campbell Press

Keep your eye on the Campbell Press, but keep that eye moving, for that's what the Press will be doing this weekend. Campbell Avenue.

Over the weekend the big press, job presses, linotype, folder and other heavy equipment, plus the entire equipment in the present plant, will be moved and set up again in time to publish the four papers due out next week. These are the weekly Saratoga Observer and Cupertino Courier, Campbell Press Shoppers' Guide and Cambell Press.

The new plant, located on the site of the Campbell Cannery, has been erected by contractor Oliver Jensen. Owner is the Campbell Investment Company. The modern building, with attractive facade, provides 2550 square feet of production, stock and office space, featuring latest developments in lighting and acoustics.

Judge Advises Man On Career Choice In Support Case

All that glistens . . . or words to that effect . . . refused to sway Superior Judge W. T. Belieu's decision ordering Dan Hendon of Campbell to pay $190 support to his wife and four minor children.

Hendon appeared before Judge Belieu Tuesday to explain why he fell behind in his payments. Hendon said he hasn't paid because despite his alleged successful payments. Hendon said he hasn't paid because despite his alleged successful business, he hasn't been eating regularly.

He explained to the court that he started an auto painting business about four months ago and now today he has a partner and four employes, some of who earn $70 per week.

"But me," said Hendon, I "take what is left, and there's not much after I pay my help. Why, last week I only ate six meals."

Judge Belieu replied, as he scanned Hendon's natty attire, "The thing for you to do is to get out of business and find work picking prunes where your income will be all net without overhead."

The judge in giving his decision stated, "I'll give you 10 days to pay Mrs. Donna Hendon that $190, or you'll go to jail."

Hendon, in support of his integrity, had eight testimonials from San Jose used-car dealers, attesting to his reliability and competence as an auto painter, but they proved of no successful consequence.

Blood Bank to Visit Campbell August 31; Quota Increased to Aid War Wounded

Blood Procurement Chairman Appeals To Every Healthy Man And Woman

Campbell Blood Procurement chairman Budd Levenberg reminded Campbell today that on Thursday, August 31, the mobile unit will be in Campbell at the Methodist parish house, between the hours of 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. Residents and Hunts Cannery employes are urged to participate.

"More than ever before blood is needed," Levenberg emphasized in his statement, "not only for use in this vicinity, but we now have been called upon to send blood to Korea. "Let's start by giving NOW."

APPOINTMENTS

Appointments may be made by phoning Mrs. Ethan E. Lanphear, Campbell 3655, Mrs. N. J. Mahon, Campbell 4751, or Levenberg, at Campbell 2555.

Nurses and nurses' aides are needed to help with the blood bank visit. Volunteers are asked to call Mrs. Mahon.

"We need everyone. Let's get behind this," the blood chairman urged. Instead of a quota of 30 pints of blood every three months, Campbell has now been assigned a 50-pint quota for the three-months periodic visit.

Community blood procurement chairmen throughout this area have appealed to residents in their communities to contribute blood to save lives of heroic United Nations soldiers wounded in Korea.

FIRST SHIPMENT

Defense Secretary Louis Johnson has officially requested blood for military use. Pacific Area Red Cross headquarters has announced that the first shipment of blood will be flown to Korea next week. Whole blood for this shipment is being collected from the 34 Red Cross sponsored blood centers in the United States.

Future shipments will be made up of whole blood from the Pacific Coast centers, particularly the Bay area, while blood from other centers will be used for plasma and blood derivatives.

Thus, the people of this country are faced with the vital tasks of supplying blood for both the armed forces in Korea as well as for hospitals and doctors on the home front.

Every healthy man and woman is urged to do his part and contribute blood. It is imperative that the supply of blood be greatly increased to meet needs both in the home community and overseas.

Supervisors Give OK To Legion Hall, Mortuary Zoning

County Board of Supervisors granted approval Monday to the Campbell American Legion Post 596 and David Rutherford on the County Planning Commission's recommendation to rezone two lots on Latimer Avenue and Latimer Avenue at Winchester Road.

The Legion post will erect its hall on the Latimer Avenue site, and Rutherford plans to build a mortuary at the corner of Latimer Avenue and Winchester Road.

Planning Commissioners earlier recommended approval following the last public hearing on the matter August 2. Final action was up to the supervisors.

An R-4-H multiple dwelling and clubhouse zone classification has been applied to the legion lot, while Rutherford's was given C-1-H commercial zoning.

At Monday's hearing before the supervisors, Attorney Leon Rubino represented a group of protesting residents who claimed that there is already sufficient commercial zoning in Campbell, without the addition of two more lots. A petition submitted by Rubino bore signatures of 31 residents, including those of Mr. and Mrs. Bert L. Legg, 226 Esther Avenue, who were original protestants in hearings before the planning commission. The Leggs opposed the rezoning on grounds it would set a precedent for further commercial encroachment in an essentilly residential district.

Let's Browse

McCLOY, HELEN, "Through a Glass Darkly," 1950. An eerie story about a girl haunted by her astral double, this won the Ellery Queen prize two years ago and has now been converted (most successfully) into an absorbing full length novel. Based on a case, authentically documented, reported a hundred years ago, Miss McCloy has written a fascinating tale of mounting terror in a girls' school, skillfully controlled by the psychiatrist-detective, Basil Willing. A flawless plot concerning people who become real personalities proves that here is an author who writes in the best tradition of the novel of deduction.

SEIFERT, SHIRLEY, "The Turquoise Trail," 1950.—When Kentuckey-born Susan Shelby married Samuel Magoffin, she was a frail girl of 18. Her husband was one of several adventurous brothers engaged in trade with Mexico. Hardship and danger faced Susan as she and her husband left Independence, Missouri, in the summer of 1846, and, reaching Santa Fe, pushed on toward Monterrey, until the war with Mexico interrupted the journey. There is compensation for a certain lack of reality in the portrayal of the characters of Susan and Samuel in the vivid presentation of the Mexican War period; Miss Seifert's eloquent picture of this chapter in our history makes this a living experience to the reader.

STREET, JAMES HOWELL, "Mingo Dabney," 1949.—As usual Mr. Street writes an exciting narrative. This continues the story of the youngest Dabney, his love for Rafaela Galban and his involvement through her in the Cuban revolt against Spain. Details of clothes, food, customs, the land itself are skillfully described. The scenes of guerrilla warfare are equally convincing. It is an entertaining, rather than an accurate, historical novel, a blending of fact and fiction—a story of passionate love and patriotism.

CRAWFORD, MARION, "The Little Princesses," 1950.—Behind-the-scenes stories of England's Little Princesses, told by their governess, results in one of the season's most delightful biographies. Marion Crawford, fresh from the Moray House Training College in Edinburgh, became part of the household of the Duke and Duchess of York when Elizabeth was five and Margaret Rose was two. Her story closes with the birth of Elizabeth's son. Miss Crawford has done an excellent job of recreating the life of the royal household and of the two little girls who grew up in the public eye and still enjoyed much of the good and simple life of their early childhood. Obviously, "Crawfie" has a deep regard for her charges and her account is written with restraint and charm.

STUART, JESSE, "Hie to the Hunters," 1950.—In this story of the friendship of two teen-age boys, Jesse Stuart has given another delightful picture of the life and lore of the Kentucky hill country. When mountain-born Jud Sparks rescued 14-year-old Did Hargis from a couple of bullies, he took the city boy to his own backwoods home and here young Did learned a new way of life and a new strength to carry to his own home when his parents took him. back. Few writers can rival Mr. Stuart in his description of the hill country and the recital of cornhuskings, country dances and the struggle between "terbackermen" and hunters have all the warmth and vigor of the mountains themselves. In spite of its simple plot, this wealth of backwoods information makes "Hie to the Hunters" a truly satisfying story.

WARREN, ROBERT PENN, "World Enough and Time," 1950.—This is a fictional account of an actual case which occurred in Kentucky in the 1820's—the celebrated Sharp-Beauchamp story. The facts, as nearly as can be determined from old records, reveal a tragic train of events in which a young man murdered his benefactor to avenge the betrayal of a young woman; a young woman unknown to him at the time of the seduction, but later to become his wife. The idea for the story was suggested to Mr. Warren in a pamphlet discovered in 1944, entitled "The Confession of Jereboam O. Beauchamp". Mr. Warren, with his remarkable talent for setting the reader in time, place and situation has written an arresting book about this case—exciting and provocative, which will merit the same attention as his "All the King's Men".

Ellison-Mason Vow Exchange At Methodist Church

In a double-ring ceremony performed August 12 in the Campbell Methodist Church by the Rev. Lawrence J. Osborne, Mirne Lee Ellison became the bride of Owen B. Mason of Los Gatos. White daisies and lavendar gladioli decorated the church.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mr. John Flatken of Compton. The bride was attired in a gown of white silk organdy styled with rounded neckline, fitted bodice and short sleeves. A crown of pearls held her fingertip veil which was edged with white satin, and she carried a bouquet of white carnations and baby orchids.

The newlywed Mr. and Mrs. Mason received the wedding guests at a reception in the church parlors, after which they departed for their Lake Tahoe and Yosemite wedding trip. The bride's wedding trip ensemble was a rose suit with blue accessories.

Campbell Man Reports Pilferage; Seeks Protoection

Campbell's Dutchman was made the victim of burglars for the fourth time in the last few weeks. A lock of his garage was forced and some merchandise taken.

Mr. Bagchus seemed somewhat puzzled when he was told of the Private Police organization. You can't hire a cop in Holland, he explained; but then he happily sped on his way to buy himself this much-needed protection.

IMPERIAL...is the word for it!

"Imperial," says Webster, means "superior excellence." IMPERIAL, says Chrysler, is this luxurious new car that excels anything on wheels in the sheer exquisiteness of its styling. Come look inside this reigning beauty ... look at the lavish wool broadcloth fabrics, tastefully combined with topgrain leathers. Look at the lovely color harmonies, the soft sheen of the butler-finished chrome. Consider the advantages of Fluid Drive ... exclusive new automatic transmission ... Waterproof Ignition ... Full Flow Oil Filter ... High Compression Spitfire Engine ... electric window lifts ... the CLEARBAC rear window for exceptional driver vision ... and dozens more. Surely, of all the world's fine automobiles, only the Chrysler CROWN IMPERIAL, this car's running mate, achieves the same aristocratic distinction. Come see the flawless workmanship, the fine materials, the superb Chrysler engineering ... and you'll agree that no other car, at any price, compares with the Chrysler IMPERIAL. Inside or out, there is no finer car in America!

ONLY THE CHRYSLER IMPERIAL offers you this absolutely unique system of window control! Each window has its own separate electric motor ... each one can be raised and lowered independently from the driver's seat or at the window itself. And that's not all! So many other de luxe features ... the kind you think of as being in the "special order, extra cost" category ... are STANDARD EQUIPMENT on the Chrysler Imperial. For example: armrests on all four doors ... foam rubber seat cushions and seat backs ... double-width center armrests in front as well as rear seats ... stainless steel wheel covers ... white sidewall low-pressure tires ... carpeted luggage compartment! Full flow oil filter and many other engine features! Yes, you get all these extras as standard equipment with your beautiful new Chrysler Imperial.

Inside and out ... it has no equal at any price ...

COST OF WAR IS MORE

Despite the staggering cost of World War II, tank for tank, gun for gun, and plane for plane, the cost of war today is higher—much higher.

The most frightful cost of all of war—its loss of life and personal sorrow and hardship—never can be estimated.

On a dollar and cents basis, however, the magazine U.S. News & World Report points out that "inflation has hit war just as it has everything else."

According to the U. S. News survey, "police action" in Korea can run four billion dollars a year in addition to the near 14 billion dollars already being spent for national defense. An all-out effort would approximate 124 billion dollars a year as comared to the peak cost of 89 billion for 1944 in World War II.

SHOE PRICE PROBLEM

For instance, it is pointed out that in World War II a rifle cost $40. Today it costs $64. A bazooka then cost $36.25; today $122. A World War II fighter plane was $100,000, now they cost $150,000. Now it costs 75 million dollars to outfit a division rather than 14 million. A pair of shoes has nearly doubled in price.

Soldiers are paid more today, too. The U. S. News survey finds that a private makes $95.33 base pay now, as against $54 in the last war. Sergeants are paid $139 as against $96 in 1942, and a captain makes $313.50 instead of $200.

Food prices which have climbed for civilians are up for the Army, too. In the last war a man was fed for 51 cents a day. Now it takes 96 cents and may increase.

Taken all together, some $4000 are needed per soldier per year at this time while during World War II it was $1900 a year.

SUBMARINE JEEPS

Continuing its survey, the U.S. News reports that new weapons are tremendously more expensive than the old. The more complicated, the higher the price. A jeep used to cost $1051. Today jeeps can ford streams while completely submerged and do a number of other things of which their predecessors were incapable, but cost $2670 each. Old type submarines used to cost slightly over six million dollars each. The new snorkel-type are almost double in price. So it goes. Gasoline, uniforms, lumber, rubber, metal—it is all more expensive.

In shouldering the burden today, soldiers and civilians alike are proving again that wars are never cheap, quick, or easy. War takes manpower, it takes money, it takes resources. The price of peace from time immemorial has come high to those who value individual liberty. Yet peace and liberty—and national self-respect—are worth any price to a free people so long as the goal ahead is a better world for all.

Cupertino Grange Has Men's Night Skits And Program

Men's night provided an evening of entertainment for Cupertino Grange when it met August 11, with Master Dwight F. Sheffer presiding, and all offices filled by men of the grange. Among visitors present from Sunnyvale, San Jose and Orchard City Granges was Master Martin S. Walsh of Orchard City was was escorted to the seat of honor by Assistant Steward Colonel George W. Ames. Decorations for the hall consisted of thistles and other late summer floral decorations. Geraniums and zucchini were used in the dining hall decorations.

The lecturer's program featured men only, with the orchest-tra turning dramatic and presenting a double feature with Vince S. Garrod and Ed Jauch supplying the music. The first skit was an amusing number entitled "In Judge Ames High's Police Court." The second play, "Forget," reget", received tremendous applause.

Master Sheffer announced that Carl A. Hanneman has been called for navy duty.

New California Centennial Stamp Available Sept. 10

California's new centennial stamp, special issue commemorating the admission of this state to the Union a century ago, will be available in Campbell the day following opening of the sale on September 9, at the California State Fair, Sacramento post office, and branch stations.

On the order of the postmaster general, the stamp will be sold at the branch post office located underneath the south end of the grandstand at the Fairgrounds where the thousands of visitors may purchase any number they desire.

The stamp is now being designed at Washington and will be rushed to the west coast as soon as it is printed, in plenty of time for its sale Admission Day.

While the design has not been approved, the one most favored bears a relica of the state capitol building and is gold in color.

Sale of the stamp in the capitol, where the Fair will be held August 31 through September 10, is expected to break all records and post office officials predict a million will be disposed of in Sacramento alone. They base their estimate on the gold rush centennial stamp sale last year when more than half a million stamps were sold.

BROTHERLY LOVE . . . Blood is indeed thicker than water when it comes to deer-hunting time. And the results are definitely fruitful as witnessed by the success of Tony and Henry Uchytil of Emory Avenue.

The two brothers migrated to the San Luis Obispo County ranch owned by a third brother. The trek proved most eventful as the two local nimrods bagged two large bucks.

In fact, one of the downed deer has been reported to be the largest taken by any local hunter.

The prize animal was a 6-point 112-lb. buck. These figures are official as they were tagged and registered by a nearby deep-freeze concern.

The other buck, slightly smaller, was left at the ranch as token of the fortunate hunters' appreciation. That's one time when "passing the buck" would be gratefully accepted by us.

WHO'S LUCKY . . . The forthcoming softball classic between the Rotary Club and Kiwanis received a startling jolt (or otherwise, depending upon your faith in the players' ability) over the week-end when it was revealed that Norm Corvello, stellar player for the Kiwanis Klubbers, received his orders to report for active duty with the Navy, Norm is a Chief Petty Officer in the active reserves.

As reported in last week's column, he was to hold down three or four positions on the team. Everyone about town is arguing as to which club will benefit most from his sudden departure. One factor is rumored to have pulled strings in Washington so Corvello would be forced to miss the game. But the question is—which team did such a dastardly thing?

When asked about the situation, Corvello shrugged his shoulders and refused any direct comment, although he shrewdly pointed out the fact that several members of a certain organization have just returned from an eastern trip and that a few pieces of their luggage had the tell-tale lettering, Washington, D.C., clearly imprinted upon them.

The Kiwanians stated that at their Tuesday meeting they voted to have the game played Friday in order to have Cavortin' Corvello available but the opponent refused.

Offhand it would appear that the Rotary fears the ball-playing prowess of the enemy. But we just happened to remember that the Rotary held their golfing-barbecue outing Monday afternoon at La Rinconada.

Judging from the sale of liniment, muscle massage, and the flux of broken clubs, they are in no condition to challenge anyone, not even the Jr. Oddfellows at a game of yo-yo pulling.

There should be some moral impetus involved somewhere connected with Corvello's leaving, but we will not persue the issue any farther.

ALWAYS A NEXT TIME . . . Frank Accardi, local merchant, and Mario Saia of Cambrian spent a week-end recently on the Loma Prieta range in dire pursuit of their limit of deer. Like most of the community's hunters, the duo returned empty-handed. All they got was sore shoulders and tender feet.

Accardi said that he wished the dove and quail season were in effect at the time. The two outdoorsmen saw quail by the score plus an equal number of dove meandering about the grouds unmolested.

While there, they discovered several new hunting spots that should offer game galore when they try their luck again this year. Could that be a typical hunter's lament?

THERE'S ALWAYS ONE . . . It seems that the year-old Campbell Softball League does not have trouble enough without certain individuals throwing rocks in the still-drying cement.

Several months ago, one local resident who lives adjacent to the softball field where the league plays its games, complained that the public address system was bothering him. According to the gentleman, it prevented him from sleeping.

It's strange that no-one else voiced a dissenting note or complaint. Besides, the PA system is turned off at 10:30 p.m. or soon afternwards.

Anyhow, to make a toothpick out of a redwood, the provoked one paid a visit to District Attorney, asking for appropriate action. Duty-bound, the DA notified league officials who in turn tuned down the amplification.

This did not remedy the situation. About a month ago, this same gentleman repeated his visit to the DA who re-notified loop authorities. . . . Vicious circle, aye wot?

One league official commended that it is a "small-minded deal when only one citizen complains" and the other nearby residents remain apparently satisfied.

He added that "if the gentleman in mind wants to listen to the games the least he can do is to come to the contests and donate some needed money."

The softball diamond is located on the Campbell Union Elementary school grounds and the Softball League is recognized as a recreation project as a whole.

If it isn't the serious lack of funds it's naughty individuals. With two strikes on the Campbell League already, we wonder how long it will take before the loop goes down swinging . . . for the last time.

Booklet Explains Trespassing Laws

With vacation time beckoning many local out-of-doors men to field and stream, a number of questions regarding trespassing and fishing laws have been raised by doubtful hunters and anglers.

A local sports-minded group posed the following question: Can anyone fish in private streams stocked by the state? Others wanted to know what constitutes legally posted land and can a California landowner claim fish or game caught by a trespasser?

Answers to these and many other timely questions on the state's trespassing laws have been made available to sportsmen by the Santa Anita Sportsmen's Club. J. B. Tietz, Los Angeles attorney, has gathered laws and opinions from several sources under the title "Hunting and Fishing Trespass."

Acording to the booklet, game surprised and killed by a trespasser belongs to the owner of the land. The old common law principle was upheld in 1897 by the California Supreme Court.

While it is the policy of the Fish and Game Commission not to stock waters that are posted or to permit stocking on any private property unless at least one third of the water is open to public fishing, the state is without recourse when private property is later closed to entry.

Legally posted property is defined as uncultivated or unenclosed lands where signs forbidding trespass are displayed at intervals not less than three to the mile along roads and exterior boundaries. Entering lands under cultivation or enclosed by fence for the purpose of hunting or fishing is a criminal trespass.

Among the booklet's contributors is Deputy Attorney General Ralph W. Scott, counsel for the California Fish and Game Commission.

Softball Champs To Get Trophies Upon Conquests

The trophy presentations to the three winners of the softball divisions will be made immediately following the division-c i n c h i n g game or the game following, according to Tony Bakich, director of the Campbell Softball League.

Trophies will be awarded to the winning teams in the "A", "B" and Junior leagues.

Mr. Bakich stated in regard to local attendance that he "extends thanks to the people who patronized the games during the season." He said that on the whole the response was far from satisfactory, considering the excellent brand of ball witnessed.

With the playoffs set for next week, Bakich said he hopes to have a finer and bigger turnout than in the past, and that the softball committee will strive to offer the people the same brand of ball, if not possibly better, when the softball season rolls around next year.

LOCAL SOFTBALL NEWS

"A" LEAGUE—AUGUST 18

The scheduled game between the 7:30 Club and Leon Terrys wasn't played due to Terrys' participation in the Santa Clara County district softball tourney in Sunnyvale.

Instead, the clubbers engaged the YMI of San Jose in an exhibition tilt that saw the locals walk off with an easy 17 to 4 win.

The issue was settled in the first frame as the home team, very rude hosts, scored eight runs on three hits, a couple of errors, and five walks.

Continuing their scandalous behavior, the victors punched across three tallies in the second, two in the third, and four in the fourth, and then decided they had enough.

The visitors scored two runs in the third on four hits, which is far above par on any course. They obtained their final tallies in the last frame on two hits; one a potent four-master by third baseman Rivera.

Leading sluggers for the 7:30 Club were Escobar and Olavarri. They both clubbed out homers, Escobar in the third and Olaverri in the ensuing canto.

"B" LEAGUE

Moorpark needed more players as eight of their stalwarts were no match for a fully-manned crew of Junior Chamber of Commercites who courteously dumped the short-handed team, 9 to 7.

At that, it took an eight-run rally in the final frame to assure victory for the juniors. Entering the fatal frame the park crew enjoyed a 7 to 1 lead, as their chucker, Scope had the chambermen on the hip allowing three scattered hits.

Then real quick like, Scope lost his range as he gave up five damaging hits and one walk. Of course, the mere fact that his defense fell flat on their collective moors, by committing three errors, didn't help Scope too much.

To say that the game was loosely played would be a wee exagerration. Moorpark, generous to an extreme, was guilty of seven miscues with C of C charged with four boots.

Evidently, the Moorpark aggregation should try their hand at barnyard golf. Their ability to amass sevens is noteworthy. The box score reveals they had seven runs on seven hits and followed for a full house with seven sins.

"A" LEAGUE—Monday

Guess the Saratoga Merchants couldn't stand the strain of losing another ball game. Or was it because they couldn't stand the shock of a possible win? In 12 league games this year, the goose-egg in their win column has not been altered. In fact, the presence "0" is probably the most dependable thing around the unsettled softball scene.

Anyhow, the merchants did not field a complete team against the 7:30 Club, thus the game was in turn forfeited.

But the few fans (few . . . there were practically more players than spectators) available still witnessed a softball game as the Klubbers tangled with a hastily-assembled crew consisting of several Merchants and a few stray players caught taking a short-cut across right field.

This conglomeration managed to beat the 7:30 bunch 4 to 3 in a fairly interesting game.

Statistically speaking the only notable feat was the 12 strikeouts chalked up by Sanders who hurled for the winners. Olaverri and Weltz combined to KO seven of the Sara-ands.

"B" LEAGUE

The Farmers' Union left no doubt in anyone's mind who belongs in the cellar as they trounced and buried Jeffers into the deeper confines of last place, 21 to 5, in a battle for ditch-digging priority.

Jeffers had a chance to share their coveted nook with the union if they were able to gain a win but they were denied most convincingly.

The game developed into a hitter's dream right off the bat (pardon us) as Jeffers, showing more life than ever, scored five runs in the first two innings. But the union, getting ever stronger all over these days, racked up eight tallies in the opening frames.

The score remained 8 to 5 until the last canto with both teams seemingly pooped out.

In the last inning Jeffers was hit with everything this side of Bradley Manor as the farmers, making more noise than their cohorts on a Saturday night, scored a baker's dozen on eight juicy hits.

It is impossible to decipher the scorebook for appropriate figures in that hectic frame. The scorekeeper in his frustration had no more space for additional statistics, but he did his best. As the result, intermingling numbers and figures looked like ancient hieroglyphics super-imposed on an ancient Chinese manuscript.

"A" LEAGUE—Tuesday

In the latter stages of any softball division race, the clubs that have no chance of finishing high on the ladder fall into the irritating habit of failing to show for a scheduled game.

Such was the case of the Purple Knights who reneged on the Leon Terry's team. This marked the second forfeit in this week's play.

Maybe the knighters had a bonafide reason for their absence, but according to the good book, not one of them made an appearance.

Anyhow, the terrymen got credit with a win and the absent ones receive their third loss of the current campaign.

"B" LEAGUE

Netops trimmed the Campbell Hardware clan by the resounding tune of 18 to 7 to throw the scramble for first place into a deeper pit of undecidedness.

At the present writing, three teams boast identical records of five wins and one loss (unofficial reports). They are Netops, American Legion, and Bettencourts. Another intra-division playoff may be in the making.

Scoring 10 runs in the two opening frames, the toppers easily handled the outclassed victims. Five insurance runs were added in the third frame. From then on, it was a case of waiting for the time limit to set in, forcing a cancellation of the slugfest.

"B" LEAGUE

Bettencourts Markets remained in the thick of the pennant race by defeating Moorpark, 12 to 4.

If the foodsmen are able to cop second-half honors they would automatically gain their league's championship, since they captured first half honors also.

A six-run rally in the third frame proved the turning point of the game. Up to that time the losers enjoyed a 2 to 1 lead.

Bettencourts added two more runs in the fifth and three in the seventh.

Moorpark's final splurge of resistance came in the sixth frame when they pushed across two runs, thanks to a homer by Johnny Franzen with a man on base.

Rec. League Clubs Trade Gloves For Prune Picking Gear

"Work before pleasure" reigns supreme this week as the Recreation Baseball League cancelled its three scheduled games.

According to Neil Royer, program director, many boys from the Campbell and San Tomas teams have to help with prune picking. If the crop is picked according to schedule, the league will continue play next week.

It's all over but the celebrating so far as the actual outcome of the loop is concerned. Campbell Elementary school has cinched top spot by virtue of a 10-game winning streak.

With only four weeks of play remaining neither San Tomas or Moorpark can catch the undefeated leaders. Moorpark is six games off the pace with a four and six record. San Tomas has the cellar all to themselves with their one and nine record.

Summer Recreation Swim Class Is Cancelled As Pool Closes For Repairs

Tomorrow marks the final day of swimming for students participating in the week-old swim class at the Woodrow Wilson High school pool, San Jose, under the auspices of the local Recreation program.

According to Neil Royer, program director, W. C. Henley, superintendent of the Campbell Union School District, received notice from the San Jose school district stating that the pool must be closed a week earlier than expected for repairs.

Children registered for swimming instructions will be refunded their 50-cents entry fee Friday and Saturday. Royer said those who are absent those days may receive the money by contacting him at Campbell 2520.

Due to the sudden curtailment of activity, the crafts program will be increased at all three schools; Campbell, San Tomas, and Moorpark, Royer said.

The summer program concludes its activity August 31 with each school throwing a picnic and party for its registered recreation program members. Parents are invited to attend the functions. The Moorpark school is taking its children to Alum Rock Park for an outing.

Tonight at the pool a swimming meet will be held. All students that have registered for one of the three swimming courses held this summer are eligible to compete in diving, swimming, and under-water contests. The affair will be supervised by competent instructors.

In all, 375 children, from 13 years in age down to five and six years old, have benefited from the program's swim classes, Royer revealed. Upon registration each child was placed in an appropriate classification, either a beginner's group, intermediate class, or the advanced category.

Once in these groups the youths were taught according to their individual ability and progress.

Royer said that no swimming badges or medals of merit were presented to graduating pupils. The sole purpose of the sessions was to acquaint the students with the water and teach them the fundamentals of swimming.

Several members of the younger set advanced to such a degree that many are able to dive off the high board, Royer concluded. Definitely ample proof that the program has been successful in its sole aim.

D. Hansen Cops Three Events In Two Swim Meets

Denny Hansen, 14-year old swim flash from Saratoga, continued to dominate various Bay area junior swim meets this month.

Within the past two weeks, Hansen, one of the brightest swimming prospects to appear on the younger scene, entered two peninsula meets and walked off with three firsts and one second while competing against the area's better junior set.

Hansen took the 50-yard freestyle and 50-yard breaststroke events at the San Carlos Invitational finals August 13. His time for the freestyle race was 27 seconds flat and his 35.2 copped the breaststroke race.

He also anchored the winning 4-man 400-yard relay team.

In the finals of the Peninsula Swimming Association meet at Menlo Park Sunday afternoon, the teen-aged Saratogan captured the 50-yard freestyle event in the exceptional time of 26.1. This bettered the Peninsula Athletic League junior record for the event.

One judge clocked Hansen under 26 seconds. According to Bob Uphoff, swim coach at the Saratoga Swim Club, the youthful merman will be consistently in the 25-seconod bracket within a few months.

Hansen, a sophomore at Sequoia High School, has three years of prep competition remaining. During those seasons Hansen should make his presence felt among local high school circles, Uphoff claimed.

SERVICE NEWS

Lt. Col. J. L. McBride, U.S.A.F. son of Col. and Mrs. James L. McBride, 640 So. Winchester road, Campbell, is attending the seventh regular course of the Air University's Air Command and Staff School at Maxwell Airbase, La., which began on July 17.

Col. McBride reports to the Air University from duty as an instructor, assistant professor of mechanics, at the U. S. Military Academy, West Point, N. Y., where he has had duty since September, 1947.

He served in Hawaii from April 1941 until January 1944.

He and his wife, Ella Marie will make their home at Maxwell Air Force Base, Alabama, while he is in school.

Orrin F. Accardi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Accardi of Campbell, has received orders to report for active duty in the army on September 11 at Camp Cook near Santa Maria. Accardi completed a year's army service in January at El Paso, Texas. He attended San Jose schools.

Active navy duty is on the schedule for Norman Corvello, co-partner in the Campbell Hardware Store, who reports for Pacific fleet duty in San Francisco Monday a. m. Chief Yeoman Corvello has a tally of eight years navy service, three and one-half of those years on a minesweeper in the Pacific during World War II. He served a total of five years during the war and three prior to the war. Hardware store partner Cel Gerevas will 'carry on' during the navy man's absence. Corvello has been in the active reserves.

SQUADRON COMMANDER

Naval reservist DONALD WATTS JR., 745 El Solyo Drive, has been called back to active duty as a Navy lieutenant commander and commanding officer of a fighter plane squadron. His whole squadron was called up as a unit, and Watts was at Oakland Navy Air Base until the squadron moved to San Diego August 1.

Comdr. Watts has been in the active reserve since July, 1946. During World War II he was a member of the famed Fighting 18th squadron which rolled up an enviable record in the Pacific theater. He volunteered for Navy duty in 1941.

Comdr. and Mrs. Watts have two children, Paul Richard, 3, and Bruce Donald, 1. Mrs. Watts accompanied her husband to San Diego, then returned to the family home here.

Jimmy Allen, 685 Lucot Way, has received his orders to report to Hamilton Field, where he reported to Hamilton Field the 15th of August.

Allen, a staff sergeant in the inactive reserves, has a wife, Anita, and three daughters, ages 3, 4 and 5.

He is attached to the cryptographic service.

Employed by the Big Boy Food Market, Allen also took a leave of absence from the Democratic Central Committee.

POPULAR RECORDS — The battle of the sexes will flare up anew when Texas Jim Robertson's new recording JAW, JAW, YAP, YAP, YAP makes the rounds (Victor 21-0365). Disc is a novelty about a woman's conduct after you're married to her. Title is a description of the constant flow of one-sided conversation and as Texas Jim says, "A woman's tongue is a devil when it's hung in the middle and wags both ends."

Vic Damone gives out with a rousing version of TZENA, TZENA, TZENA ably abetted by vocal group and chorus (Mercury 5454). There is some clever "round" singing by Vic and the chorus and the whole effect is bright and gay but poor Vic sounds like he has a bad cold in the head.

The sweet and dreamy FRIENDLY STAR is very effective with Margaret Whiting's vocal spooning (Capitol 1132). Frank De Vol orchestra gives a restrained and quiet background to the chirp's smooth purring.

The Chordettes, four young ladies who are giving the Barbershop Boys a run for their money, give out with eight familiar melodies — favorites of quarets and soloists all over the country—on one Long-Playing disc (Columbia CL 6111.) Close harmony and the unusual qualities of female voices singing four part arrangements make a refreshingly different collection. Tunes included in the group are—When You Were Sweet Sixteen, Carry Me Back to Old Virginny, Shine On Harvest Moon, I'd Love To Live In Loveland, When Day Is Done, Tell Me Why, Ballin' The Jack, Moonlight Bay.

LATIN RHYTHMS by Stanley Black and his concert orchestra contains eight distinctive and unusual arrangements of popular South Of The Border rhythms (London LPB 60). These recordings, as are all of Stanley Black's works, are danceable as well as highly enjoyable from the listeners' viewpoints.

CHILDREN'S RECORDS: Children from six to sixty will enjoy the recording of James Barrie's immortal classic PETER PAN, starring Jean Arthur and Boris Karloff (Columbia ML 4312). Barrie's whimsy and fantasy are irresistible to grown-ups and children alike and it goes without saying that countless children will try to learn to fly at home after making the acquaintance of PETER PAN. This is one of the most charming and completely satisfying recordings I have heard in a long time and I most heartily recmend it for children and their parents alike.

CLASSICAL RECORDS: Several readers have asked what criterion I use as a basis for judging the classical recording I review so I will take a little time this week to discuss the four factors that influence my choice of recordings worthy of being brought to your attention via this column.

The first factor is repertoire—is the music a worthy addition to a collection, is it a better recording of one of the standard works or a little-known work worthy of your attention.

The second factor is performance—how does the performance on the new recording compare with previously recorded versions of the same music and how does it conform to what most authorities believe to be the composer's ideas.

The third factor is the recording quality regarded from the technical point of view. I, of course, am a hi-fi fan so I am not satisfied with a recording unless the sound is sharp and clean and with a wide frequency range. Any fuzziness or distortion, any blasting on the highs or rattle on the lows, excessive surface noise or needle scratch eliminates the recording as far as I am concerned.

The fourth factor is the performer—it seems to me that many people are entirely too influenced by the star names and quite often it is the relatively unknown artist who will give the most sympathetic interpretation. We are so saturated with the power of advertising and "brand names" and even in music we hesitate when the performer's name is unfamiliar.

Any given record may be defective in one of these four factors, but so superlative in one or two of the others that I must perforce choose it. I hope this will answer the readers questions as to the basis of my choice of records to review.
